

To Greg,

I am – Srinivas Reddy Thatiparthi, Software Developer from Pune, India looking for remote work. I came across your Python/Django job and gone through your website. I am really impressed with your mission, values, and culture; especially loved your remote driven philosophy.

I have 12 years of software development experience, python being 10 years in various roles from an individual contributor to team lead guiding, mentoring people in various ways. And I have contributed to various open-source projects too.

I will be great asset to your team since I bring the expertise of the following skills.

1. Shipping features with great code quality in an Agile development environment
2. Hacking things together
3. Automating boring stuff either with scripts, or test frameworks, or hacking existing frameworks.
4. Running CI/CD pipelines- Jenkins, Travis, or Drone, etc.

Thanks,

Srinivas Reddy Thatiparthi – AKA Srimi.
